

Hi there!

My name is Irve Griffiths, I'm a guitarist, bass player, drummer, producer and composer based in Lyme with 19 years experience of teaching in Mrs Ethelston's School.

I like to provide lessons that are fun and engaging, which is the most important element of learning a musical instrument, but cover the material you need to know as a budding Jimi Hendrix, Brian May, Ed Sheeran or Taylor Swift! I aim to make my service highly inclusive covering all abilities and focus on building solid foundations that will not only be useful for your main instrument, but are transferable to other instruments. I also include elements of literacy, numeracy and technology in lessons, plus run groups around my motto of 'always encouraging others'. Rockschool grades are available, although not obligatory, and I use the materials anyway as they are excellent! We aim to prepare music to perform at school events and assemblies, and students also receive special deals from Project Music in Exeter and will be invited to any events I am running.

From November my musical partner, Finn Trott, will be coming on board and will be initially focussing on starting a new year 3 and 4 group and possibly a ukulele group if there is enough interest. Finn actually attended Mrs Ethelston's, so knows the school well and was my first student that I took all the way up to Grade 8 on guitar. He's since completed a degree in Guitar and Music Production in Bristol and is a welcome addition to the team.

Lessons occur on Monday afternoons in school time and there are also now slots available for after school lessons either through Zoom/Facetime or at one of our teaching locations in Lyme Regis or Colyton. Further terms and prices are available on request - if you would like to enquire about lessons and availability please get in touch ideally by e-mail: irve@me.com or mobile on: 07939 079 062.

Thanks for your interest!
